NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

EX-SPEAKER RANDALL has improved so much that his physicians have consented to his being present at the opening of Congress next Monday.

EX-SENATOR ROLLINS of New Hampshire, who was stricken with apoplexy last Friday and supposed to be dying, is much improved and will probably recover.

MARY FITZGERALD, eighty years old, was yesterday sentenced in New York to two years in the penitentiary. This is equivalent to a life sentence. Mrs. Fitzgerald is a professional pickpocket, and the oldest person of that profession in the city.

THERE was a heavy frost in Florida yesterday morning, and it is believed that the yellow fever season has definitely closed. Four deaths occurred in Jacksonville yesterday, but there were no new cases. A frost is said to be usually fatal to those who are ill with the disease.

THE American mints coined $3,484,673 silver dollars last year, and got 39,156 of them into circulation. The mints and the distilleries need a rest. By the way, the new year will open with 33,000,000 gallons of surplus whisky on hand, or about a gallon and a half to every man, woman and child in the country.

Gov. HILL has granted a respite to Adolph Reick, the aged wife murderer of New York, to give time for a consideration of his case. He hopes to get a new trial. An examination of his lawyer by the Governor brought out the fact that he was persuaded to admit the killing and to plead self-defense, against his own judgment and through a misunderstanding. He does not speak or understand the English language.

D. LOWERY SMITH has been appointed Commissioner of Public Works of New York, by Mayor Hewitt, to succeed Chas. Norton, resigned. Smith is the "offensive partisan" who was forced upon Norton as his deputy by the County Democracy. Hewitt made the appointment without consultation with Mayor-elect Grant, and Smith will go out on the 1st of May, when his term expires.

REV. HOWARD WIDEMER of Philadelphia, who was some time since ordered by the Episcopal church to leave his wife or withdraw from the church, has decided to elope with his wife, and yesterday sent a letter to Bishop Whitaker, severing his church relations. Widemer had violated the canons of the church by securing a divorce and marrying again while the discarded wife was living.

THE storm of Sunday night and yesterday spread along the coast from Florida to Nova Scotia, and stretched westward over New England, New York, Virginia and several other states. But the worst effects were upon the sea, where there were many wrecks and much loss of life. The weather record of 1888 is going to hold a big place in the history of meteorological phenomena. And there are yet 35 days, during which winter will get established in its own way.

THE canvass in Chattanooga is getting into close quarters. The Democratic Sheriff has found a clerical error in the returns, which elects Evans, the Republican candidate for Congress, by a majority of three. Gov. Taylor has been invited to throw out the votes of two districts on the ground of irregularities. If he does this it will give Bates, the Democratic candidate, a majority of one. Taylor is reluctant to assist in the steal.

GOV. LARRABEE is looking into the evictions of farmers in Iowa, and has instructed the local authorities to insist that the United States Marshals shall keep within the law. The proceedings are as cruel as any in Ireland. Families are being turned by scores into the highways because the titles to lands which they have bought and paid for are defective. The Governor has no authority to interfere, except to protect the poor people as far as possible from inhuman treatment. But this he will endeavor to do.

THE Duke of Sutherland, who is traveling in this country, received the news of his wife's death at her home in England yesterday, while sitting down to table at the Brevoort House, New York, with a quartette of English ladies who have arranged to spend the winter with him in Florida. The incident will make no change in the Duke's plans. He has not for years been received in English society because of his neglect of his wife, but in America he almost equals Marlborough as a social lion. He will probably marry an American heiress before his return.

MRS. SARAH J. WHITELING is on trial in Philadelphia for murder. She had a sickly husband and was very poor. She disposed of him by poison, after which she collected $180 insurance upon his life. Then at intervals of about a month she poisoned the two children. By their deaths she obtained about $180 more. She confesses to the poisoning of the children, the girl to "save her from a life of sin." After poisoning the boy she says she "repented and prayed to save him." She had led a praying but dissolute life.

THE six states of New England cast 443,570 votes for Harrison and 354,418 for Cleveland. In 1884 Blaine received 384,828 and Cleveland 310,346 votes. The Republican gain is 58,742 and the Democratic 44,072. The Labor vote fell off in the four years from 31,967 to 1,481. The Prohibitionist vote rose from 17,895 to 19,820. The Labor vote was expected to go back to the Democrats this year, but it is evident that the tariff issue carried a large portion of it over to the Republicans. The latter gained five seats in Congress on this issue alone.

CHENANGO county claims the premium for the most industrious voter. He began at Smithville as soon as the polls opened, then walked nine miles to McDonough, where he voted again, and at noon arrived in German after another walk of eight miles, and deposited his third vote. He then crossed to Cortland county, where several polling places were in close proximity, and continued to vote till the sun went down. He accepted the market price at each poll. His political preferences are not stated, though it is supposed that he belongs to the great party of "Floaters."

IN VOLATILE FRANCE.

German who Believes the Affairs of the French are Drifting Toward a Crisis.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

COMARSET, Mass., Nov. 27.—It is reported here that the Philadelphia steam collier Allentown has foundered off this port. There seems to be little doubt that the steamer was taken on some of the ledges directly outside of this port. At about 2 P. M. Sunday, a number of people at the village heard the sound of a steamer's whistle, and last night an immense amount of drift wreckage came ashore at Sandy Cove and on Sandy Beach, the marks upon which indicated conclusively that the wrecked vessel must have been the Allentown. Several life-preservers and some of the other wreckage was stamped with its name. The Allentown was an iron boat of 1,283 tons, built and owned in Philadelphia.

BEAUFORT, N. C., Nov. 27.—The steamship Wacochee, from Savannah for New York, cotton loaded, is ashore 23 miles from Lookout. The crew has been saved and the steamer can probably be gotten off.

HYANNIS, Mass., Nov. 27.—The schooner Susan P. Thayer, from Philadelphia for Portland, with coal, went ashore on South West Ground, off Hyannis, at 7:30 P. M., on the 25th, and bilged. The vessel and cargo will probably be saved.

The Coming Crisis in France.

By Cable to The Freeman.

BERLIN, Nov. 27.—The North German Gazette and Journal judge the action of the majority of the Chamber of Deputies in adopting the motion of M. Mesurere, yesterday, to adjourn the action for an hour on account of the presence of M. Wilson, the son-in-law of ex-President Grevy. They say the members who look for the motion, evidently desired to give France a proof of the purity of conscience, sincerity and virtue of the Chamber. Mr. Wilson in an interview said the incident would not have the effect of keeping him from the Chambers. He would continue the struggle, no matter what action the members might take. La Presse says the Cabinet will discuss to-morrow the question of suppressing the patriotic league.

G. A. R. MEN WITHDRAW FROM ORDER.

Information Given in a Dispatch from Chicago this Afternoon.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—A special from Indianapolis says: About 1,200 Democratic veterans, members of Grand Army Republic Posts scattered over the state, held in the Capitol building last night a secret meeting at which it was resolved that every Democratic member of the Grand Army Republic should abandon the order, and all present pledge themselves to withdraw from their Posts. Adjutant General Koonitz presided. A name and a constitutional for the new order proposed by the Democratic veterans were adopted. The new order is to be charitable and non-political in character. A mass meeting will be held, Wednesday night, in the City Hall, when the reasons for deserting the Grand Army Republic will be given and the principles and objects of the new order laid before the public. Adjutant General Koonitz says similar meetings will be held all over the state within the next week.

The Pope and Prince Bismarck.

By Cable to The Freeman.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The Daily News says it learns from official sources that in the recent interview between the Pope and Count Herbert Bismarck, the former remarked: "If the events of 1870 had depended upon me, everything would have been speedily arranged. Now, after the lapse of so much time, it is more difficult, but I shall remain the time lost." Count Herbert replied: "God has not made it possible for a man to recall a single moment of his existence, and your holiness wishes to recall 18 years."

THE SOLUTION OF THE ROMAN QUESTION.

By Cable to The Freeman.

ROME, Nov. 27.—The Moniteur says the Pope's departure is the probable solution of the Roman question. It is certain that the several nations would contend for the honor of receiving him. The Operatore Romano denies that the Pope is relying on the outbreak of war to gain temporal power.

Parnell's Case in a Scotch Court.

By Cable to The Freeman.

EDINBURGH, Nov. 27.—In the case of Parnell against the London Times for libel Judge Kinmer has fixed upon December 20 for hearing proof on the question of arrestments. Counsel for Mr. Parnell have served an order upon the defendants requiring them to produce the contracts of copartnership ownership of the Times and also its business books and accounts.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 27.—In the United States Court the case of Kavanagh, of Elmira, for pension fraud, has been given to the jury.

The first of the opium smuggling cases was moved at the opening of the Court, this morning. The defendant is E. A. Gardner, indicted for smuggling an aggregate of 3,500 pounds of opium, which is charged at $10 per pound, would amount to $35,000. Gardner was arrested in February while attempting to remove a sleigh-load of opium from Jefferson County for shipment West. It was put up in half-pound cans. One of the branches of the case is the conspiracy. Much of the opium was secured by officers. At one time Gardner had been given bail, but was again arrested. Gardner was brought into court at 10 o'clock this morning. Witnesses testified. The case is still on.

BLACKBURN AND RUCKER.

Senator Blackburn and Judge Rucker are still 2,000 miles apart, but there is intense excitement in Lexington, where the Senator resides, because Col. J. E. Moore of Colorado has made his appearance in the city. He is known as Rucker's friend and one who has had large experience in "affairs of honor," and it is supposed that he has come to arrange the details of a hostile meeting.

The quarrel, as already related, grew out of an interview with President Cleveland. Rucker came to Washington during the campaign and introduced himself to Blackburn as a native Kentuckian and a Democrat. At his request Blackburn arranged the interview between him and the President. After the election was over and the result known, Rucker told a reporter that Cleveland in the conversation complained of the division of the party in New York, and charged that Hewitt, Hill and Grant were all opposed to him and would enter into deals for his defeat. Rucker said that on hearing this he went straight home to Denver and advised his friends to stop betting on Cleveland.

Blackburn saw the report of this conversation, and denied it in an interview in which he used some of the intemperate language for which he is famous. He called Rucker a liar, apologized to the President for introducing him, and declared that the Lord owed an apology to mankind for allowing him to exist among gentlemen. Rucker saw the interview, and put in a rejoinder equally caustic. He said every word of his statement of the President's remarks was true, that Blackburn knew it, and dared him to deny it again. Other letters followed, each a little more severe than its predecessor, until the world knew that two real Kentucky blackguards had got by the ears. The outcome is believed to be a challenge from Rucker, and all Kentucky is in hopes that the meeting will be arranged. There is not much clearness of opinion as to which of the parties is in the wrong, but the cry goes up for "blood," and blood will have to be spilt, or Blackburn will have to resign and go out of politics. Judge Rucker is less unpleasantly situated. He lives in a state where there is scant respect for the code, and where Democrats get little comfort and less honor out of office-seeking.

Blackburn is allowing the impression to get abroad that he does not want to fight. He takes a position similar to that of another Southern pink of chivalry, who, having posted his enemy as a "cock-eyed pelican of perdition," declined a challenge on the ground that, being himself a perfect gentleman, it would be a sacrifice of self-respect and of honor to meet on the field a cock-eyed pelican of perdition. Senator Blackburn, having charged that the Lord owed an apology for creating Rucker and allowing him to live among gentlemen, is not sure that a Senator of the United States would not demean himself by fighting with him. And certain people in Lexington who do not love the Senator are doing all they can to fortify Blackburn in this impression by informing him that Rucker is an excellent shot and a skilled duelist who never missed his man. He fights his bravest battles with his mouth. A fellow Congressman relates of him that his only connection with a duel was years ago when he acted as second. Before proceeding to shoot, it was the custom on those days to listen to the arguments of the seconds against engaging in mortal combat. Blackburn was entirely successful. He began his plea at sunrise, and before he concluded the sun went down behind the Western mountains, and it was too dark to fight.

If Blackburn falls in this affair, another Senator will be chosen from Kentucky. Carlisle is waiting for the place.

OBSTACLES TO FRAUD.

The Democratic House stealing conspiracy does not contemplate more than one majority. This would enable it to elect Speaker Carlisle and Clerk Clark, who would proceed to appoint the subordinate officers. Whatever might be the final outcome of the scheme, these men would expect to draw a nice chunk of their salary. They would undoubtedly be willing to compromise in this way—to go out and turn their places over to the actual majority if well paid for it. It is a desperate game, and nothing more than very transient success can be hoped for by those engaged in it. President and Senate could not recognize a House organized in this way, and the legally elected Democrats would in a little while see the wisdom of taking safe their seats in the lawful body. But there is the never dying hope of the Clerk and the appointive officers that the majority will be willing to allow them something for their trouble and disappointment, as the easiest and most agreeable way of settling the whole matter.

But a new obstacle presents itself. News comes that the Governor of Tennessee has refused to grant the certificate to the Democratic candidate in the Chattanooga district who is trying to steal the seat of Evans, the Republican Representative-elect. Gov. Taylor has been regarded as a very honest man, with a warm side for the Republican party, which has elected his brother to Congress. Besides, Chattanooga is one of the most stirring cities of the new South, and elected Evans because it was earnestly in favor of a protective tariff. Taylor is not sure that he could condescend to his own political comfort to allow Evans to be counted out. Whether he grants the certificate of election to the latter or leaves the question to the House, the failure to seat the Democratic member would break the whole conspiracy.

Then Gov. Nichols of Louisiana is hesitating over the certificate claimed by the opponent of Coleman, the Republican elected in New Orleans, and gentlemen who claim to know declare that he will not issue it unless the election of the Democrat appears on the face of the returns. And there are others who believe Gov. Seales of North Carolina too honest to issue a certificate to Simmons, the Democrat who wants the seat to which Cheatham, Republican, has been elected.

There are also several honest Democrats elected to Congress who confess they can see no advantage in a majority obtained by methods that would be tainted by suspicion, and which in any event would not be close to be politically useful. There is nobody who can believe for an instant that Mr. Randall would lend a hand to a project the end of which would be the discomfiture and disgrace of his party. The men behind the conspiracy are Speaker Carlisle and Secretary Clark and their personal friends. There are not enough of these to carry the plot through, and in a few days we shall hear from Democratic sources that it was never contemplated, and that all that has been published about it is chargeable to the Republican propensity for lying.

Senator Quay asserts again that the Republican majority in the House will be nine. This will do for a starter, as it will be sufficient to correct all the frauds by which other Republican members have been counted out. When this is done the Republican majority will be twenty-one.

KIND WORDS FOR THE GRAND ARMY.

The Albany Times does not agree with Gen. Palmer of Illinois, that the Grand Army of the Republic prostituted its organization to political purposes during the campaign, or even that it worked against his own election. Inasmuch as Gen. Palmer ran 9,000 or 10,000 votes ahead of Cleveland, who was opposed pretty solidly by the soldiers, the Times thinks he was treated fairly and got a good share of the soldier vote, especially as his opponent was a soldier and a Grand Army man too. It has looked over the ground in this state, and is unable to find any organized movement of the Grand Army against Gov. Hill, although he was opposed by a soldier. It did not even organize against Cleveland, though the Times estimates that of the 40,000 soldiers in the state, 30,000 voted against him, of whom one-half were Democrats.

The Times is surprised that there was no display of indignation against Cleveland in the organization, especially when they received the news of the "women and children" order, but this did not happen. The soldiers kept politics out of the Grand Army, and fought like the famous Kentucky sharpshooters at New Orleans, "on their own hook." And it would be unreasonable to insist, as Gen. Palmer practically does, that membership in the Grand Army shall deprive the individual members from taking an interest in politics. Palmer evidently counted upon the entire soldier vote, and is disgruntled because he did not get it. There was no other assistance through which he could hope to be carried into office over the adverse majority of from 20,000 to 30,000 in Illinois. He is an old man—somewhere in the seventies—and this was his last chance for office. His disappointment has soured him, and he turns upon his old comrades with reproaches. To have run 10,000 ahead of his ticket does not appease him. He wanted the office, and is angry because a miracle was not performed.

PUBLIC OPINIONS.

The lean turkey at present is the only one a life insurance company would take any risk on.—Rehoboth Herald.

So far as the miners are concerned the benefits of protection are about played out. It will be so in other occupations unless immigration be limited.—Syracuse Standard.

The logic of Emperor William is the logic of all Europe. He wants to make sure of space by making sure that he is more powerful than his neighbors.—Providence Journal.

It is noted that the new administration starts off with an Old Testament flavor in Benjamin, Levi and Elijah. But it will be remembered that Matthew, James and John had considerable to do with the campaign.—Springfield Union.

His Holiness the Pope, through Cardinal Gibbons, has congratulated Gen. Harrison upon his election to the Presidency, an act both graceful and gratifying to the large number of Roman Catholics who supported the Republican ticket at the last election.—Indefinite News.

Farmers are getting two cents a pound more for wool than they did last year. The price of cloth and clothing has not advanced. Cleveland had been elected the price of wool would have fallen off two or three cents a pound, while cloth and clothing would have been no cheaper.—Chicago Journal.

It is not likely that Speaker Carlisle will be elected to the Speakership of the next House of Representatives. The Republicans will, of course, have a candidate, but that will be in accordance with usage to designate the leader of the minority on the floor.—Rehoboth Union and Advertiser, Dem.

In an interview Col. Don Platt, editor of the Rehoboth Herald, says: "I wrote to Mr. Cleveland and to Mr. Dickinson, and to Mr. Garland, and I told them we were gone unless they put someone else at the head of the Democratic National Committee than Barrum; but no change was made, and here we are. I am going to vote for Col. Platt, now is a very unkind offer, for did not Rehoboth Herald receive $10,000 from the National Committee? And it was money practically wasted."—Buffalo Courier, Dem.

It will not be acceptable to the Democratic party of this country if a Democratic majority in the new House of Representatives in Congress is figured out by any suspicious or doubtful means. There is now a statement that the new House is Democratic by three majorities. If that be true, the Democrats will hold on to the House with a "mallet and hammer," and will be right in doing so, and will be supported by all honest men in doing so. But this claim is made by interested clerks and employees of the present House who hope to retain places, and that for it is of doubtful quality.—Albany Times, Dem.

DR. DAVID KENNEDY.

Discoverer and Proprietor of Cherry Balsam, is not in a position to risk his reputation upon the success or failure of any preparation as to whose merits a single doubt exists in his own mind, and in recommending the Cherry Balsam for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all bronchial pulmonary affections, he does so with the greatest confidence, having had the most gratifying results follow the use of Cherry Balsam, which he has prescribed for a long time in his private practice. The value of this preparation cannot be overestimated, and even were Dr. Kennedy's own assurance incredible, the testimony of the hosts who have used it cannot be impeached. Cherry Balsam will prove effective in many cases of Incipient Consumption; also in Bronchitis and Asthma, where other preparations have not even been tried, and is therefore a most reliable medicine to use in all complaints such as Croup, Whooping Cough and Hoarseness. A careful trial of Cherry Balsam will prove its superiority over similar preparations.

FOR 1889

The publishers of Scribner's Magazine aim to make it the most popular and enterprising of periodicals, while at all times preserving its high literary character. 25,000 new readers have been drawn to it during the past six months by the increased excellence of its contents (notably the Railway articles), and it closes its second year with a new interest and an assured success. The illustrations will show some new effects, and nothing to make Scribner's Magazine attractive and interesting will be neglected.

The editorial articles will be continued by several well-known writers; one especially interesting by Ex-Postmaster-General Thomas L. James on "The Railway Postal Service." Illustrated.

Mr. Robert Louis Stevenson's serial novel "The Master of Ballantrae," will run through the greater part of the year. Begun in November.

A correspondence and collection of manuscript memoirs relating to J. F. Millet, and a famous group of modern French Painters will furnish the substance of several articles. Illustrated.

The brief and papers written last year by Robert Louis Stevenson, will be replaced by equally interesting contributions by different famous authors. Mr. Thomas Bailey Aldrich will write the first of them for the January number.

Many valuable literary articles will appear: a paper on Walter Scott's Methods of Work, illustrated from original MSS., a second "Sketch of Old Books," by Mrs. James T. Fields, and many other articles equally noteworthy. Illustrated.

Articles on art subjects will be a feature. Papers are arranged to appear by Clarence Cook, E. H. Blasfield, Austin Dobson and many others. Illustrated.

Fishing articles describing sport in the best fishing grounds will appear. Salmon, Wininipini, Bass and Tarpon are the subjects now arranged. The authors are well known sportsmen. Illustrated.

Illustrated articles of great variety, touching upon all manner of subjects, travel, topography, description, etc., will appear but not of the conventional commonplace sort. Illustrated.

Among the most interesting in the list of scientific papers for 1889 will be a remarkable article by Professor John Traill, bridge, upon the most recent developments and uses of Photography. Illustrated.

A class of articles which has proved of special interest will be continued by a group of papers upon electricity in its most recent applications, by eminent authorities; a remarkable paper on Deep Mining, and other interesting papers.
